

unique opportunity awaits you! We are pleased to offer you the opportunity to advertise in the 2019 Assessors' Association of Pennsylvania (AAP) Journal. This publication is mailed statewide to all county assessors and is your exclusive way of reaching this important audience. The AAP Journal has grown and readership continues to increase. Advertising is limited to the first eight respondents. Don't delay. Respond today!

Enclosed is a copy of our 2019 rate sheet for advertising. Our rates include the opportunity to use additional colors in your ad to make it even more visible to this important audience and to help you drive home your message to assessors statewide. Our publication is in four-colors and the look and feel has been upgraded to reflect the profession.

We also invite cooperative members and others to think about writing for the AAP Journal. Enclosed is an article solicitation form should you wish to submit a story idea that will be of general interest to assessors for consideration and we encourage you to do so. Sharing success stories you have had with assessors is another important way to not only help others benefit from your previous success, but is also a way in which to keep your company and its services before the assessor market.

We invite you to place your ad today. If you have questions, or need additional information, please call Terry Cochran at (717) 736-4734 or email her at tcochran@pacounties.org. We do need to know your intentions for 2019 by November 23, 2018.

Remember, approximately 675 assessors statewide rely on the AAP Journal as their source of reliable and up-to-date information. If you want to reach this group, you can count on the AAP Journal to help you get your message out effectively and in a timely fashion.

Remember, advertising is limited to the first eight responders - Don't miss out on this important opportunity!

AAP receives numerous article submissions and requests throughout the year. AAP cannot include every request received, but each request will be given equal consideration. The AAP Editorial Board meets on a regular basis and selects article topics based on member needs and prevalent issues. If the topic is chosen, AAP staff will contact you following the review, but due to the volume of requests AAP is unable to contact individuals submitting topics not being used. Topics not selected for a particular article will be kept on file for one year from the time delivered to AAP and will be reviewed at each editorial meetin held during that time period. AAP reserves the right to alter topic content and/or add additional article content to a suggested piece. AAP can not compensate authors for articles submitted for publication. By submitting an article, you are granting copyright permission to publish the article in the AAP Journal. *Author's may request an electronic manuscript/reproduction of their article, as it appears in the newsletter following publication. Please note: As part of its copyright agreement for Pennsylvania AAP Journal, the Assessors' Association of Pennsylvania (AAP) grants the authors the right to place the final version of his/her manuscript on the author's website subject to AAP's standards, or in a public digital repository, providing credit is given to AAP Journal. When posted on property owned by the author (i.e. a website), the author should accompany the article with a tag line reading "this article is provided courtesy of the AAP Journal, a publication of the Assessors' Association of Penrsylvania." The tag line should also state the issue date of the publication where the article was originally printed. Note that the article is a reprint with AAP's permission, but in no way constitutes an endorsement of the products or services offered by the vendor. The AAP logo shall not be reproduced or included in the online manuscript/reproduction of your article, should it be published.	g of
